

Philadelphia Suburban Corporation's Illinois Subsidiary Acquires Will County Water and Wastewater System

BRYN MAWR, Pa. Nov. 17, 2000 - Philadelphia Suburban Corporation (NYSE:PSC) today announced that its Consumers Illinois Water Company (CIWC) subsidiary has acquired the water and wastewater collection systems serving Calumet Gardens, a development of approximately 100 residents in Crete Township, Will County, for more than $100,000 of engineering and construction services provided to interconnect that system with CIWC.

With the financial and administrative support of Will County, CIWC was able to solve environmental problems at this small troubled system.

CIWC provided engineering and construction oversight for the installation of nearly 16,000 feet of water transmission and distribution main to connect the Calumet Gardens development to its nearby Dixie Dells water system and the installation of 11,600 feet of wastewater force main and a new lift station to move the wastewater to its Plum Creek Wastewater Treatment Plant, located in Crete Township.

The former Calumet Gardens wastewater plant has been abandoned.

Will County is the fastest-growing county in Illinois and is often mentioned as a potential site for the state's third airport.

The acquisition is the thirteenth growth venture announced by PSC this year and the third for Consumers Illinois Water Company. Other growth ventures PSC has announced this year include:

1. January 2000 - Consumers New Jersey Water Company was awarded a three-year contract to provide meter reading, billing and cash remittance services to the Winslow Township municipal water system in Camden County which provides water and wastewater services to approximately 30,000 residents.
